Washington, Aug. 23.

[] HEN it was known that Specker Crisp had seen Mr. Cleveland today there was a rush of members to the speaker's room in order to learn the president's intention as to the tariff. All the speaker would say was that the president would probably allow the bill to become a law without his signature. said the president had not told him what he would do, but from his general conversation regarding the bill the speaker made the foregoing deduc-

The president it is said has not hesitated to express to some of his callers his objections to the bill. These objections are as strong to-day as they were when his now famous letter to Chairman Wilson was read in the bouse more than a month ago. None of those who saw the president asketi whether he would veto the bill. The constitutional limit of ten days in which the bill may become operative without the president's signature will be reached at midnight on Monday

Some of the Democratic leaders who saw the president this morning have urged him strongly to sign the bill. They have represented that any other course would discredit the measure and the party, and it would be a serious handicap to them when on the stump during the October campaign. The president is reported to have heard these gentlemen patiently and to have shown by his responses that he was not insensible to their argument. In some cases they returned to the capitol feeling that after all there was a possibility Cannibalism was then held over the that the presidential signature would be bodies until the flesh was eaten to the affixed to the measure, but, as one of the bones. Equal uncertainty also exists whether President Cleveland will send a message to Congress concerning the bill He has been urged not to do so, but to withhold anything he may choose to say on the subject until the re-assembling of congress to be incorporated in his annual message.

CLARK CAPTURED.

Leader of a Gang of Robbers Bagged in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23 —A man supposed to be William Clark, the head of the notorious Clark family, who are charged with having recently committed a number of robberies in the vicinity of Princeton and also in other parts of New Jersey, was arrested here early this morning. The police noticed a wagon with its top riddled with bullets being driven slowly on the outskirts of the city and sus pecting that the driver was Clark. they arrested him and notified the New Jersey authorities. The suspect says his name is Arm-strong and denies that he was ever at Princeton, but gives no explanation as to how the wagon became riddled with bullets? The latter fact is what made the police suspicious, it being believed that the vehicle is the one in which Clark and his son made their escape from the officers near Princeton on (Sunday, during which a heavy fire was kept up between the pursuers and the pursued. The man will be held ntil the New Jersey authorities are

The suspect was given a hearing this fternoon and held in $800 bail for a urther hearing. During the trial he denied that his name was Clark and said he traveled around the country with his horse and wagon working on farms.

He said he had no family and that he came from Paterson, N. J. The man also stated that he did not know the bullet holes were in the carriage until they were shown to him by the police.

THE WORLD'S END NIGH.

New Prophets in Kansas City Say So and Call the Debs Strike a Sign. Kansas Ciry, Aug. 23.—A small pamphlet entitled, "What Do These Things Mean?" is being freely distributed among the homes, particularly of workingmen, about town. It at-tempts to prove that the end of the world is at hand, and that the wonderful things told in the Book of Revelations are about to come to pass.

The recent railroad strike is adduced as a last sign of prophecy. This last sign, it declares, is distress with per-plexity. The pamphlet is published by the International Liberty association. At their office no one was able to fix the exact day for the end of the world. but it was stated that the present generation will live to see it.

FRESH TARIFF BLUNDER.

A Ridiculous Mistake in the Coal Sched ule Which Will Make Trouble. Washington, Aug. 22 —Another blunder has been discovered in the new tariff bill, which is almost sure to cause serious trouble. In the free list of the McKinlev act appears these two paragraphs: "No. 536—Coal, anthracite." "No. 537—Coal stores of American actions of the coal stores of the can vessels, but none shall be unloaded." The new bill, however, unites these paragraphs in Section 441 of the free list, which now reads: "Coal, BOLIVIA CANNIBALS.

Father and Son Brutally Tortured to Death and Eaten by the Carangas Indians.

PANAMA, Aug. 16.—The Star and Herald prints the following details of the recent double murder by Indians in

The Indians of Carangas killed the magistrate of the court of Oruro, Senor Arce, and his son, who was with him. The unfortunate men seeing the menscing attitude of the Indians took refuge in a priest's house, which was surrounded by the Indians, who threatened to set fire to it. Having held a council of martyrdom they re-solved that the life of the son should be taken first, and in the presence of the father they clipped out his tongue, extracted his eyes and otherwise tor-tured him until he was dead. As the blood flowed from the body they caught it in horn cups and drank it with avidity,

They then put the father to death in a like horrible manner. A carnival of ies occurring within the regio of civilization is almost increditable. This story also seems to explain the reason for a report that it was ex-President Arce, who is at present in Chili, who had been assassinated, but as has been made known already it was a namesake of his that was the victim of these Indians, and the unfortunate magistrate was the man.

Advices from Chili to the Star and Herald says: "The steamer Longavi, belonging to the Compania Sud-Americana, while bound from Carabue to the north ran on a rock during a dense fog and is a total wreck. Many lives were lost, but the exact number is unknown,

A LONG AND BITTER WAR BEGINS

The Lockout Under Way - It Was Settled at a Secret Meeting of Manufacturers - Weavers in New Hampshire Go Out-New Bedford Employes Non-Committal About Conferring - Over 25,000 Thousand Are Idle.

FALL RIVER, Aug. 23. HE great textile strike here today developed into a lockout, and, as a result, tonight will see 25,-U 000 idle mill operatives in the city of Fall River. Notices were posted in the mills early this morning, which established beyond question that the war between labor and capital here is to be a long and bitter one. Tonight every mill operated by the men who are members of the Manufacturers' association will shut down indefinitely. These mills include every establishment engaged in the manufacture of print cloth, and the shut down throws 22,645 men and women out of em lovment. There are at present about 2,500 who have voluntarily quit work, which swells the total to about 25,000 idle operatives. The decision to close was reached by the manufacturers at their secret meeting yesterday, and is the result of an agreement to close the mills at any time that three-fourths of the looms were silent for any cause, This was true yesterday, and today's notice resulted. The shut-down will leave a total of 3,275 employes at work in the Barnaby Manufacturing company, Fail River Iron works, Connecticut and Seacon-net mills, These establishments are engaged in the manufacture of goods that do not come under the manufacturers' agreement. The Weavers' association met this afternoon to discuss the advisability of calling off the King Philip mill strike, which has been on for some time. If this is done it will place the strikers on the same footing with the other employes.

NEW HAMPSHIRE JOINS. Cook, N. H., Aug. 23.-Four hundred weavers in the China mills here did not go to work this morning as a result of the reduction in wages equal to the cut down in the Fall River mills. Wages here are governed by the scale in Fall River, and the operatives were accordingly notified a 10 per cent. cut down on Tuesday. They objected strenuously, finally went out, and today refuse to return. Notices of a reduction have been posted in the Webster and Pembroke milis also and strikes may follow. The weavers, who are nearly all French Canadians, are not members of a union, but now will probably organize.

Out of 2,471 looms in the China, Webster and Pembroke mills 2,060 are running this afternoon. Agent Jewell stated to an Associated Press reporter this noon that he hoped for an amicable settlement of the difficulty, but in case none was arrived at within a short time work in all the mills would be stopped. New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 23 —The principal feature of interest in the strike situation today is the conference to be held tenight on the call of Mayer Brownell. The labor secretaries have voted to attend, but manufacturers are non-committal. Messrs. Barry and Warner, of the state board of arbitra-tion, have arrived. They said they had come simply to look over the ground and will decide later on their course. The gentlemen hold a conference with the officials of the Spinner's union. Later they had a session with Mayor Brownell, and have approved his course. The weavers and back boys hold meetings on the Common this morning. The boys took steps toward the formation of a union and passed rules for fining boisterous members. It was voted to elect a "big feller" treasurer.

MURDER MYSTERY.

Burglars Fire the House of Clayton Danley, Who Is Burned to Death. Camben, N. J., Aug. 23 -Clayton Danley, the barber who was severely burned in escaping from his burning house early yesterday morning, died at Cooper hospital at 5 o'clock this morning from his injuries. The fire is supposed to be the work of burglars, as Danley claimed a sum of money and a gold watch had been stolen during the

Mrs. Danley, the wife of the dead man, arrived home last night. She, with several officials, at once made an investigation of the burned premises and discovered some articles missing. Among those were several pieces of silverware and wearing spparel with her wedding dress.

The bed on which Danley slept during the progress of the fire was found by Chief Dodd to have been saturated with eil, and about six other places over the house were found to have been oiled and set on fire. Four of these are in the cellar and the others on the stairway. The police claim to have positive evidence that the fire was the work of an incendiary. This adds another murder mystery to Camden county's already long list.

Coxsyltes Offered Shelter Upon Terms That Shock Their Sensibilities. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23 -The sixty x-Coxeyites who were unloadead from a train from Baltimore last night, whither they had been sent by the Maryland authorities after having been released from that state's house of correction, met with a chilly re-ception from the local authorities today. The late follow-ers of the commonweal agitator spent the night wherever they could find shelter, and this morning two of their number, acting as a committee, called at the office of Mayor Stuart. Their object was to request that homeward transportation be furnished to "members of the army." The chief executive, however, was not in the city, and an attache of his office di rected them to Superintendent of Police Linden. With meek countenance the pair appeared before the latter functionary and related their story, only to be met with a bluff "Get out of town as quickly as you can." In thus admouishing the committeemen the police superintendent made no reference to the furnishing of transportation, but supplemented his advice with a ward ing that the Philadelphia house of correction would receive the army, individually and collectively, if it did not depart.

The superintendent afterward relented and said the army might stay in the city if it went to work, but the committee were not seeking employment and they withdrew. As the police are keeping a sharp watch upon the hobos their departure before long, by a route as yet unselected, is looked for.

CROOKS ARRESTED.

Pittston Police Capture Two Mer Who Are Loaded with Burglars' Tools.

Special to the Scranton Tribuna. PITTSTON, Pa., Aug. 24.-Two crooks upposed to have been from Philadelphia, were arrested here this evening by officers Tighe and Wethers. They were captured at the Lackswanna and Bloomsburg junction, and it is supposed that they alighted from a train due from Philadelphia about 9.30. They were searched prior to being locked up and their baggage was found to consist of a complete set of burglar's tools, including jimmies, pincers, nippers, powder and a quantity of fuse. Each carried a 32 calibre self-acting revolver with all chambers loaded.

One of the revolvers was minus the original stock and a pine handle had been substituted, which was held in place with rubber bands. It otherwise was in perfect condition and appeared quite new. The other revolver was bulldog and was well used. The prisoners were well dressed and were apparently aged about 25 and 35 years respectively. The officers believe that they belong to an organized gang that has been operating in this valley for some time past, robbing railway stations and posteffices. They will be given a hearing to morrow morning before Burgess Maloney.

It is thought the officers received ; tip from the detectives in the employ of the railroad companies which enabled them to locate their prisoners,

A Disastrous Conflagration Caused by the Exploding of a Lamp in Mrs. Coyne's Cellar-Fire Engines from Central City Sent to Assist in Controlling the Flames-A House Torn Down to Stay the Fire's Progress.

PHE village of Minocka was swept by fire at midnight and eight houses in the center of the place were burned to the ground, at a patal loss of not less than $30,000. The fire originated in the basement of the grocery store of John J. Coyne, on Main street, in the center of a block of frame houses.

A lamp in the cellar of Coyne's store exploded and ignited a large petrolsum tank, filled with nearly fifty gallons of headlight oil. The residents were were awakened from their slumber by the report of the explosion of the tank, and in less than five minutes when they rushed to the street, volumes of flames were seen breaking from the windows in the cellar of the store. Before they could collect their senses the fire had crept up the sidewalls and were licking the wood work of adjoining buildings.

THE FIRE SPREADS.

The store in which the fire started was annexed to a large double dwelling house, owned by Mrs. Coyne, mother of John J. Coyne, and is tenanted by her family and the family of John Mahady. In fifteen minutes the store and double dwelling were a mass of flames. The house of Thomas Kear-ney, on the north, next caught fire and was speedily consumed, communicating the fire to the house of John Gal lagher, which met a like fate, as did the large dwelling of Timothy Lydon. While the fire was eating its way to Lydon's house, about 200 men attacked a two-story building belonging to the Judge estate, and in a short hour every stick of timber was torn away and the progress of the fire was checked for the time being. On the south side of Coyne's store the houses were not so closely situated and it took longer for the fire to spread. First the house occupied by Timothy Higgins caught, next the story-and-a-half building untenanted, owned by the Michael Costello estate, and then the splendid new residence of John Lowry caught fire.

FIRE COMPANIES APRIVE A telephone message was sent to Chief Engineer Ferber, of the Scranton fire department and, although it was outside the city limits, he ordered box 55 to be pulled, and the Neptune, Century and William Connell companies responded. The new Neptune steamer was attached to the plug at the corner of Birney avenue and Sanders street, and two lines of hose were linked together to reach the fire. Chief Ferber directed the stream to be turned on Lydon's house, and in a few minutes the spread of the fire was checked. On the other side a bucket brigade kept the house of Thomas Louganey saturated with water and prevented the flames from reaching it. Altogether there were eight houses de-stroyed and one razed to the ground. The burned district sums up a less of $30,00, and not one-fourth or is covered by insurance. John J. Coyne is the greatest loser. He had his store and stock insured for about half of their value, and he lost every article he owned, not even sav-ing his books. His mother had nearly $500 in her room and this was burned

The fire spread so rapidly that those whose houses were destroyed had no time to save scarcely anything of value, At one time the crowd of over 5,000 persons stampeded and many escaped miraculously from injury in rushing from beneath the trolley wire which had become loose through the burning of two poles.

The fire companies kept the stream on the ruins until 1.30 and the fire was entirely extinguished.
